

是友？是敵？

A close-up photograph of a sword hilt. The hilt is made of dark metal, possibly steel or iron, with intricate, ornate metalwork on the crossguard. The crossguard features a central shield-shaped guard with the letters 'U' and 'R' on either side of a central emblem. The background is a blurred, dark image of a building, possibly a castle or a large stone structure, with a bright light source creating a lens flare effect on the right side.
